

Updated

Regular STI testing is an important part of looking after your sexual health. The more gay men who are tested and treated for STIs, the sooner we can control the spread of STIs and HIV in our community. To find out about:

- gonorrhoea, syphilis, chlamydia, herpes and other STIs;
- the different types of tests you can have; and,
- where to get tested, check out

www.whytest.org

or call the Gay Men's Sexual Health Hotline on 1800 009 448

Prepared by STIGMA - Sexually Transmitted Infections in Gay Men Action Group: South East Health, ACON, Central Sydney Area Health Service and GPs.